The case for MKos

Good day Konstantin,

There are far too many contradictions (10) to address them all, but I will try to do my best. There is a glossary at the end of the document in order to help you with my terminology and to help you identify your fallacies, there's also a fallacy counter just for fun and because I could.

Mind you that I am Mediterranean and blood boils fast over here but that is mere a reaction to your actions and none of it would be a case if I wasn't unjustly provoked.

Also as a proponent of the truth (7), I have to be direct and honest and tackle the issues head on and not beating around the proverbial bush.

I did an overview of your texts and although you do not use direct verbs for insults you are full of insinuations and clever usage of words to strike your self-appointed superiority and "morality" without exposure.
I on the other hand am more direct, simple, yet effective and I won't hold back at all at expressions and I will use them as I see them fit. So be prepared.
I would have liked you more if you also have used direct verbs for insult than your strategy.

One note: I give you the benefit of the doubt because I know you use voice to text and perhaps what you are writing here isn't exactly what you wanted to say. But given that a lot of what you have said has been repeated in the past, the benefit of the doubt is limited.
But feel free to write again with better phrasing what perhaps has been wrongly written and translated, although you should have checked what your wrote before sending it.
And although I do not expect this to be a thing and your opinion of me (and the rest of the players) is very clear that it is negative and I don't see how you can save this or if I would like this to be saved.

Let me start.

A) You say here: No one accused you of anything. (8),(12)
But the texts are full accusations of betrayal. I have asked 3 different AI and my friend Maria who is Russian to help me decipher the correct interpretation of your texts and 4/4 agree on that. Given the facts(1) everything points to accusations towards me.

So the facts(1) contradicts your statement of nobody accused me of anything. For example, YOU accused ME of getting bribed with 1000 spice melange whilst I have told you, they helped NIKOS with this and not me. Which makes it a lie(8).

B) Here you say: Play however you want. (10)
I fucking try to BUT I have you to say to me "don't do this, don't do that, do this, do that, don't group with them, don't help them" and so on.
How can I play however I want when I literally can't because of you? Isn't this a contradiction (10) and gatekeeping (9)? And this is a thing I will go back to lots of times in my replies.

C) Here you say: We had our own game. But you weren't happy with it.(3),(11)
Yes, we had our game, you assert that I wasn't happy with it. I have actually never said that. This is your hypothesis (3) and it is wrong.
What has happened though? Real-life friends of mine started the game, we (as in you and me) did our gig as usual BUT then I tried to help them, and YOU weren't happy with it. Remember? Don't give them this or that because they will quit the game?
The facts (1) point that YOU aren't happy with it. You have built a strawman (11) of my feelings to justify your anger.
We (as in me and Niko(and Aris at times)) have formed groups plenty of times to go and harvest materials and we have extended to you invitations to join us in activities that me and you used to do. Can you guess what happened?
You have always declined us. So the facts(1) point that YOU aren't happy with it.
I have been farming with you as you say as well with Niko and Ari.
I am still farming with Niko, Ari and now, the new guys. Who is missing from the action? Not me. And tell me again, how can I play however I want when I only get rejection from the activities mentioned above? It's almost as if I can't play however I want…it must be my imagination apparently…
You see, nowhere I have told you how to play your game or what to do, with just one exception, playing the dungeons like John Rambo and not using the environment as protection, not just me, nobody pays attention to what happens on other characters in a dungeon, the assumption has been and will always be, that you have to take care of your self and this is a big topic that I wanted to avoid bringing up. Last time I rage quit the game because of this.

Again, you say “play however you want” right? I am doing dungeons with new players who have 0 experience and have never experienced this, so experiencing this from an “elite” player is both sad and wrong.
Sure, there are plenty of playstyles, but I haven’t encountered anyone relying on someone else to be the boxing sack in this game.

But we had this conversation plenty of times, for me the range enemies aren’t an issue. I will use a tree, a rock, an item to take cover, eliminate the motherfucker with the shield and sword that is the number 1 threat and then at walking pace, no stress, no pressure, I will go to eliminate the range enemy who is without shield and can be killed with 2 moves of the sword.
Not only me, literally everybody does the same. I have told you plenty of times this thing and you go “suka blyat this suka blyat that”, I am sorry but it isn’t you who has 2-3-4-5 mele enemies stabbing you, being out of stamina in order to evade them and getting the slow blade attack, it is me.
But I have raised this to you a lot of times. Do you care about other players? Evidently no and I will tell you exactly why. You think but not say “fucking him, let him die, suka blyat as long as he takes care of this 1 minor damage range unit the hits me while I John Rambo”, or perhaps you think indeed you are John Rambo and you are dealing so much damage that for me having all those mele enemies feels like popcorn and candy right?
In any case, the only thing I have told you for YOUR benefit, use the fucking environment for YOUR protection and you started to flame. Play the game however you want you say, right?

D) You say: 1. I've always been used to achieving everything myself and developing on my own. I want to complete a dungeon - I'm looking for how to learn on my own. It's unacceptable for me to receive a reward for dragging me through the dungeon. It's normal for you. But don't suggest that to me. (13)

Have I given you the impression that I can read minds or predict the future? How am I supposed to know you do not want help to boost?
This is projection (13) you assume your "hardcore" way is the only way and look down on others. If you have expressed this, please quote yourself and I will apologize. Also good for you that you want to do this your way. I am not going to invite you ever again; I am also going to reject you if you ask for help because I really do not like to help people who spit on my face, more over those who spit on my face multiple times. And what did I do to deserve a reaction like this? Did I rape your daughter? Did I kill your dog? Did I light your car on fire? Oh NO! All I did was to offer you help to a dungeon! SHOOT ME!

E) You say: 2. I want to farm the desert - I'm forming my own team. I'm teaming up with another team of equal skill. But I'll never go and transport a transport to another guild because there are many of them and few of us.(8)

So, if YOU invite the people you want everything is utopian and when I invite you to an activity somehow the team isn't of equal skill?
Do you feel like you are god and superior to the rest of us peasants? Wow, what an insult! Thank you for thinking this highly of us! With friends like that what do I need enemies for? And I have invited the same people you did...
And how did I transported a transport to another guild? What do you mean with this?
I need explanation because this is a lie and wrong in so many levels and makes me feel insulted twice than being a peasant to the superior god MKos...
One thing I do not tolerate is lies when facts(1) are there and contradict this statement. Told you also before, get your facts(1) straight.

F) You say: 3. We captured land so that others wouldn't get tired of it. Now you're handing out land to those who thought we were idiots because they need it. Excellent plan. No comment.(3),(8),(11),(12)

For this I will go very hard on you, not only you are an insulting player with superiority complex but here you show to me that you are a moron on top of all that. I will restrain myself from using vulgar language even though I strongly believe it suits.
1. WE captured land on the front side of Eastern Shield Wall, this land is there still and hasn't been given to anyone nor is it planned to. YOU have the burden of proof to this ridiculous claim.

2. Obviously you are talking about the Zhoxie's base, Zhoxie base has NEVER been part of any plan I made or was aware of ever since she quitted.
The people who moved here saw the base being abandoned and asked if we knew whose base is this. I told them it is from Zhoxie, a streamer who played the game and quit and doesn't plan to return ever again. They asked me if I could take down the console, I told them no, it is not my base and I wasn't the one who built it but I can ask around.
We have asked Zhoxie, she said she doesn't give a fuck about it. Now, since it is a base that is not in my plans, I do NOT give a fuck about it too. So I have asked you A LOT OF TIMES about your opinion and I have clearly stated that if YOU want to keep this base, let me know and it will be off the table for discussion.

In the how many times I have asked YOU about this, YOU have never replied but as a moron you are, you turn and accuse me of handing out land and being ironic that this is an excellent plan. No, please comment on how moron YOU ARE. All this sentence could have been avoided if YOU moron took a second to reply “no, I want to keep this base” but did you? Of course, and not! It is easier to write all the BS above and accuse me of things and then you dare to make statements “No one accused you of anything.” Are you sure about that? Are you reading what you are writing? Do you have language comprehension? This is similar to you shooting me with a gun and accusing me of dying while your gun’s barrel is still smoking…. if you don’t see that, I can’t help you. And accuse me of "handing out land" is gaslighting (12)

G) You say: 4. I never do anything out of spite. Even if I don't like the game mechanics. You can try to adapt. You can find ways to do better than others, under the current conditions. I only asked once to help the guild win the Landsraad. Just to help me personally. But in response, I got a bunch of crap about how poorly it was made. I don't give a shit how it was made. There are current conditions. Everyone is equal in them. But when I was running around questing for hours in the evening nonstop, you were completing dungeons, farming the desert, or just standing at the base. In the evening. Not in the morning. When you had such an opportunity. But you stood by your principles. This is called "spite your grandmother, I'll freeze your ears off." Thanks. I pulled it out in one face. (8),(10)

Oh boy, I think I have told you that I do not want to compete in the landsraad system plenty of times and in various tones for many months now. I have even given you reasons for it, you choose “fuck it, let me put my landsraad dick down his throat one more time” and then you come and say “Play however you want.” I don’t know how much clearer I can say this to you, I DO NOT LIKE THE LANDSRAAD SYSTEM AND I DO NOT CARE FOR IT EITHER. I have even written extended details about it on my steam review of Dune. How would you feel if you hated something, I knew about it and I was asking you to do what you hate and then reply and act the way you do? You aren’t very pleasant when being “on top”, I can’t imagine how you’d be when you are “on the bottom”.
How many times have I told you that I work in the mornings when the landsraad houses are open? 100? 200? 300? I have lost count. And no, not everyone is equal to those rules, when they open at 9 am the time 99% of the people work and by 5 pm all the houses are closed and completed. Do you know what equal even means? Is the 100m dash equal when a runner starts are 99meters and the rest at 0meter? I really want to see your thoughts on that.
You don’t give a shit how it was made? I don’t give a shit on a fuck if you want to compete in this. Understood?

H)You say: You're ignoring my requests. Although there's never been a situation where I refused to do something at your request. Even when I didn't like it. That's your right. I'm not arguing. But I won't ask anymore. When you can't rely on someone just because they're fighting with thin air and created their own problem, that's bad. (8),(12),(14)

Other than the landsraad which I have explained plenty of times already and won't do it again, what request did you make and I ignored? Please be specific about it because not only in my knowledge but to everybody's knowledge, it is you who ignores our requests. As I recall, I had to log an alt account while I was already busy with an activity just to give to your alt access to some bases and vehicles because you wouldn't shut the fuck up about it. So how is this me ignoring your requests again?
There hasn't been a situation where you have refused my requests? Every hair on my head fell! You haven't done anything but ignoring our requests, I have explained in detail in the "We had our own game. But you weren't happy with it." Section.
I think the only problem we are fighting is you and your contradictions and you pointing the finger on me for your failures isn't a solution.
There is no reciprocity (14) in your actions.

I) You say: It's even worse when he doesn't listen to what you tell him. Again, because of his principles. I remember very well how we argued about a dungeon. And how you said you chose to play with swords because you could do some shooting in another game. Three days later, you send me a video where the entire emphasis is on shooting, and the very first sentence says that you need to kill the ranged characters first. Exactly what I told you. (8)

I will start with this famous quote of yours "Play however you want.". I love to quote you and your contradictions, and you must know by now that I am debater and I love this kind of talk.

I tackled this topic earlier but since you are also bringing this up let's recap!

The only one who doesn't listen among the two of us is you. I have sent you a video to help you, it is not the only way to do things "guns only" and did the guy in video play as John Rambo? Shooting everything without any covers? Or did he use EVERYTHING in the environment to protect himself AND use his gun?
How do YOU do the exact same again? Standing unprotected in the middle of the room, being shot by the ranged enemy and suka blyat this suka blyat the other.
And I stick by this rule, the lore of the game, movies and books are swords not guns. If I wanted to play a shooter game, there are tons of them out there.

Also you never said anything about it “Exactly what I told you”, show me when and where you told me “use the environment as a cover and use a gun”...oh wait that was me in the dungeon your were cursing me for doing my part and you died because you didn’t do “exactly as you told me”. Fuck off man! Lie to yourself, not to me.

(J) You say: All dungeons are built on tactics. If you don't know the tactics for every mob and boss, no level 5 weapon will help you. There are already tons of videos of people completing them at high levels with standard gear.

I agree, what’s your point? Did I say somewhere the opposite?

(K) You say: Just like I've already easily passed level 20. And I'm still wearing tier 1-2 gear. And that's considering I only complete 2-3 dungeons a day. Because I've been busy with other things.(10),(13)

Good for you. What does any of the above have to do with me? Doesn’t the “Play however you want.” Apply here as well? Because you do this your way, I can’t do mine my way? Hypocrisy.

(L) You say: And I don't need tens of thousands of melange for all this.(10),(13)
I will copy/paste myself: Doesn’t the “Play however you want.” Apply here as well? Because you do this your way, I can’t do mine my way? Hypocrisy again.

(M) You say: You have different plans. A different worldview. Enormous ambitions. Go and realize them. I don't mind. But please don't offer that to me. I don't need resources and can provide them for many people myself. All you had to do was listen to me and help me with my requests. And you would have had all the resources. I've told you repeatedly that if you need anything, just ask me. But you ignored my requests, leaving me to deal with my problems alone, and went off to farm the resources you already have. I haven't seen a more stupid situation in a long time. (9),(11)

Guilty as charged! I for sure have different plans than yours but not the plans you think I have. My worldview has always been pragmatic and realistic, based on evidence and facing the facts (1). I won’t apologize for any of the above.
You have built a strawman (11) of me and you attack me based on baseless assertions and speculations.
Part of my worldview is to offer help and activities a few times but when I meet only rejection, I am not the retard you have in mind, I do not persist so no more offers from me to you, in absolutely everything. I am asking you nicely, please do not burst my testicles again with the retarded landsraad system.
Does it makes you happy? Good for you!

It has never been part of my game and it doesn't worth a second of my life. My e-penis isn't tied to this. I do not get erections from being in the top 5 as you do.

So all I had to do is mindlessly obey your requests and ignore my real-life friends plea for help? We did exactly what you are saying, asked for help and you turned your back to us, after the fact prophets aren't good prophets' man, you should know that. After you burn someone alive, don't offer aloe vera to heal the wounds. And what happened to this earlier statement? "Play however you want."? Can I play after all however I want, or do I have to mindlessly obey your requests? Which is it? Why do you get offended when I act on the "Play however you want."? Why are you gatekeeping (9) my game?

N) You say: I asked you to help me organize a Discord for the guild. Twice. But you're inviting me to play on someone else's Discord. WHY THE FUCK DO I NEED IT? I have people online in my guild, ready to form a team, but they have nowhere to communicate. And I'm busy with tasks that I'm not getting help with, despite my requests. (14)

Yes, you did ask me to make you a discord for the guild, twice, thrice even. I indeed ignored you. Do you know why? Because we are 19-20-100-1.000-1.000.000 people in the guild and only 3 or 4 are active! Why would I waste my free time on something that is not needed and while we have so many channels of communication already?
And yes, I did invite you to another discord server to meet new players, players that will migrate to our server and perhaps be looking for a guild. You decided to ignore my request, as you have so far with everything else. I don't give a fuck man if you need it or not, I do not care for it either. You can be a member in thousands of discord servers, mute them so you do not get notifications in weird hours, use them when you need to and leave if you want to. I am not a science and technology communicator. It is your responsibility to learn about how discord works. And again, we are 3 or 4 active people, how are you ready to form a team? With whom? You and your alt character? And do you need to communicate via discord with yourself? I do not see any point in using my time for a DOA discord server.
P.S. there are the official Dune discord servers in case urgent verbal communication is needed. Provide me with evidence (2) that the guild is active and then I will see what I can do. I do not waste time on DOA discord servers, I should have been clear about this earlier, I do apologize for this.

O) You say: I'm tired of this talk. I don't need strangers' help. Don't offer it to me anymore. And don't invite me to play with them. I'm not interested.

No need to ask again, you are very rude and act weird, I really don't have to invite you to any communications server. I don't want to be held accountable for your actions and behavior. I have told you earlier, I am not going to persist, I offer help and guidance a few times, but I am not a retard to insist doing so. That boat sailed long time ago. And do you think you are tired of this talk? What about me? I have to circle around it in a vicious circle?

P)You say: I won't change servers, siechs, guilds, etc. I'll play the way I started. If you're not happy with it and want something different, you're free to choose your own game. Please, don't suggest I go elsewhere.(8),(12)

I frankly do not care what you will do. I have only told you that I have rented a private server and invite you there to start a parallel character, not to change server, not to change sietch. You are misrepresenting my offer (8). But I told you about the guild, people do not want to join because the guild's name is in Cyrillic. I tried to rename it via opening support request to Funcom, they said no. The only other way is to pass the ownership to your alt and start a new one with Latin characters. You didn't want to. That is your problem. Don't complain if you are left alone in the end. And whilst to me the name of the guild doesn't matter, if my real-life friends leave, I will follow them if not lead them myself. For your information, so far NOBODY from the new guys told us to drop guild and join them, we party and do activities as we are. Also, I have never invited you to any guild. The only thing I told you was YOU to make a new guild with latin characters, since the rest of us are mere peasants and you want to be the superior being.
If you want to stay in a guild with a name no one can read, that is your choice, but don't gaslight (12) me into being the "bad guy" for wanting a international name for my current and future friends.

Q) You say: I don't care about the guild leader role. I gave it to you without question. You gave it back. I can clearly see that you don't want to be a leader and don't know how. Fine. I can handle this burden. I've already ordered that even one person can influence an entire server. If they want to.(3),(8),(13)

You gave me the leader role to complete one task, to request the name change, when I told you funcom's reply, you requested it back. I would have given it back without you telling me so, but you asked for it. Your hypothesis (3) that I can't be a leader is baseless. I know perfectly well how to be a guild leader, I don't know what's in the center of blackholes, guild leader isn't hard. The secrets of the universe are hard. I do not want to be leader in a guild of 4 people. The game isn't in a state where guilds play any significant role. They tried to tie it up with landsraad system because nobody knew that landsraad system even existed!

You might say you do not care about the guild leader role, but your actions and behavior contradict you big time. This is projection (13) of your own megalomania. You show to the outside world that you only care about being the boss, commanding others, to do things your way and your way alone. Maybe you should re-read all you have wrote above and rethink your approach?
I can't recall in my 25 years' experience in the MMO world any other player with such a megalomaniacal behavior as you and I have always been in PvP oriented clans with leaders with high demands who controlled every aspect of the game, but they knew what they were saying and doing and inspired respect. In contrast you do not know how to play the game but you suka blyat all the time because you do not know how to take cover behind objects and your "holier than thy" mentality only promotes pity and not respect.

R) You say: I'm not interested in all the bases I built. They were made for purposes you no longer share. You can destroy them all, give them to others, or whatever. It's your business. No need to ask me about it. I've said this more than once. If the game is slowing down for you, just demolish everything. Leave a two-by-two-meter trailer with one generator each.(3),(8),(11)

I am not asking for all the bases, for one last time, I am asking about the Zhoxie base. I really hate to repeat myself.
You keep strawman my position. I am asking about the Zhoxie base, I get no reply from you but somehow, I no longer share a purpose? What purpose did I shared before and I don't any longer? And how does me asking for the Zhoxie base alters that purpose? Are you self-projecting on me somehow? Is this it?
I will interpret this reply as ok for the zhoxie base. No need to escalate this any further, as I do not tell you to delete your base, I do not tell you to delete your guild, I do not tell you to delete your things in general, I would appreciate if you keep this to the question at hand. You have been from the start the only one who dictates how things should be, not me.

But this ends now. I don't want to be your enemy, but this is the last time you punch down.
This is the last time you will accuse me of anything without evidence.
This is the last time I am offering a hand of goodwill.

Closing thoughts

Konstantin, I used to like you and respect you. We did indeed have fun together! And I do appreciate your help and companionship all those months but there are limits to what I can tolerate and what not.
Flame in the dungeon because you are incapable of understanding how game mechanics work? Even though it is ridiculous, I laughed at first, got irritated as you piled on. Forgivable.
Reacting the way you did on the video I have sent you to help you understand how to play? That's an insult. This video was never meant to show you that dungeons can be done with guns, everyone and their mother knows that. This video was meant to show you how to use the environment when you are using guns.

Blatant lie about me and my intentions? Unforgivable.
Strawman my position? Wrong and easily disproven. You had no thesis to begin with. I nowhere have stated or wrote my intentions about the game. I do NOT give a fuck of what you thought my intentions were. The truth is what the facts are, what we can show to be true. And since you (or anyone else) do not have my internal thoughts, you were destined to be wrecked bad in this one.
The only thing related to the land that I have expressed was that I wanted to take the front side of the Eastern Shield Wall, which we have taken and no land from it was given to anyone nor planned to be given to anyone. You really have the burden of proof to prove the ridiculous claims you made here.

As for Zhoxie's base? It was never mine, as far as I can tell, it is not in front of Eastern Shield Wall and the owner, Zhoxie, not you, gave permission for its destruction. I, however out of courtesy have asked you, because you have built it, spend hours and hours in it, if you want to keep it or if I can destroy it for other people can get the land. How hard is it to straight up answer this simple question? It is a YES/NO reply. If you just say "yes, I want to keep that base" the conversation begins and ends there. All this drama for what? To show your power and authority?

All you have shown is that you are an ignorant, self-centered, megalomaniac with god complex who thinks of us as stupid, poor pawns on the chessboard.
You want us to think we have the freedom to play as we want but all we get is judgement, blame and finger pointing the moment we act on it. We did a dungeon with the new guys? Somehow, we have plans to be on the opposite end of the deep desert. Well, given that we have asked you before we met the new guys to join us in the DD and you have given us the middle finger on multiple occasions, I must assume that the opposite end of the DD is just being in it since you do not go there, at least with us. So better on the opposite end than in no end.

Reading all the text, you will not find anywhere me attacking you for the wrong things that you do, I am only giving explanations to you for the lies you have told about me.
Otherwise I could say that you are not helping new players as you self-proclaim, you are gatekeeping them and you are taking away from them the limited resources the game provides.
And I can give an example. A few days ago, a friend of a friend of mine started playing the game in our Sietch. He asked no help whatsoever. He wanted to do all from 0 without help, he made it this week to the part that he has an Ornithopter. He flies around the map searching for fallen planes and spice. Every spice he has found was being harvested by someone, he approached this someone in order to see who it is and the name of that someone was MKos…that can't be true right? The almighty king-god MKos who has 70.000 Spice Melange has no need to farm the HB small spice fields right? He claims he likes to help new players after all right? And if I am to believe this guy, the couple of times he found a spice field and he went there first, compacted 5-6 times, flew to escape the sandworm and landed back down only to have a certain MKos taking his compactions…
When he told me that, I didn't believe him, but he have taken printscreens of you and your ornithopter…Ladies and gentlemen: The hero who helps the new players!

Don't get me wrong, I do harvest them as well when I have the opportunity, but the difference is that I had ~100 spice melange in total and I was in need. Having 70.000 of it doesn't scream "in need" and taking those limited resources doesn't scream also "a helping player". There are plenty of things I could say but I am not the type of player who keeps mental or otherwise notes of what other people do as long as they do not interfere with my game, so far the only person who has negative impact in my game is you and this has to end.
It is one thing to argue about something, and it is a complete different thing to fabricate a strawman and a ton of accusations of lies and bullshit as you have done. Perhaps the non-confrontational nature of mine gave you the impression that I can tolerate such things. NO, I absolutely do not tolerate. I accept that for good will purposes I haven't objected in the past for such behaviors, the shooting like John Rambo gamestyle of yours isn't something new, that happened in the DD labs plenty of times. You have your way of doing things and you do not give a fuck about the other player who is there with you. This game isn't an mmorpg with tank, healers, buffers and damage dealers, we all are damage dealers. The lore of Dune and the game mechanics are based on sword battles and explained very well in the books about the why and how. The game until the new world map dungeons was somewhat following the lore. My point is that if I go to do the DD labs solo, it might take me 10 minutes, but I will do them, without nagging. If strangers join the battle, it might take 7 minutes, no nagging. If I go to do them with you? Nag nag nag! Play your fucking game and let me play my fucking game! Who in his right mind would join a dungeon with you, being the punching bag and deal little to no damage only to satisfy your urge to be the imba DD with the disruptor?

A co-op playstyle for those dungeons would be, you pull 1 of the 2 mele enemies off from me so I can deal with the one at hand. Finish up those mofos and move to the range enemies and for last deal with the tankish type of enemies.
But with your strategy? Deal with the non-factor-low damage range enemies who are easy to evade and avoid, be cornered by the mele guys and be executed by them because of no stamina. IF somehow survive this onslaught, wait for John Rambo to kill with the disruptor the mele guys in order to move to the tankish…or as it has happened in many occasions in my case, to respawn and run back in. Your tactics have been tested and failed every single time. I don't know any other player who has the same strategy as you and it is an evil strategy. Offload all the dangerous parts to the other player in order to satisfy your urge to play your stupid way.

Moving on, I can see that you feel betrayed. Unjustified, but I can see it. I can't excuse it though because as I have already said, nobody tried to exclude you from anything, you did this to yourself.
I also feel betrayed, as you said, we used to have fun together, even after my 2 RL friends started the game, I have been inviting you to come to DD, to do farming of materials etc but you didn't want to. I can't be held responsible for this, but I can hold you responsible.

Then we met the new players, who have been very friendly and helpful and nice to us from the very first second, then you started all the BS. Jealousy? I have no idea. And for what? For a video game?

I don't know if I want to share a guild anymore, not because it is in Russian, not because the other people have invited me to another one, but because of you and your behavior and way of thought. The way you show to see and think of me and other players in general is arrogant and insulting to say the least.
Also I don't know if I want to play and spend time with you for the aforementioned reasons. When and if you start appreciating and respecting other people, maybe.

Glossary

(1) Fact: A point of objectively verifiable data.

(2)Evidence: A body of facts which are positively indicative of, and/or exclusively concordant with one available position or hypothesis over any other.

(3)Hypothesis: A potentially-falsifiable explanation one which includes predictions as to what different test results should imply about it.

(4)Law [of nature]: A summary statement or mathematic equation which is always true under a given set of circumstances. Example: That “matter attracts matter” is a law of gravity.

(5) Theory: A body of knowledge including all known facts, hypotheses, and natural laws relevant to a particular field of study. A proposed explanation of a set of related facts or a given phenomenon. Example: How “matter attracts matter” is the theory of gravity.

(6) Proof: [legal sense, common vernacular] Something shown to be at least mostly true according to a preponderance of evidence. [scientific sense] Inapplicable except in the negative: It is only possible to dis-prove a hypothesis or theory. It isn’t possible to prove them positively.

(7) Truth: Any statement which has been or can readily be shown to actually be true. Personal testimony, conviction, conjecture, or speculation can turn out to be true, and may even be accepted as true whenever objection seems unwarranted, but no statement should be classed as ‘truth’ until examined and vindicated.

(8) Lie: Misinformation or information misrepresented with a deliberate intent to mislead or deceive.

(9) Gatekeeping: The act of controlling, limiting, or blocking another player's access to certain content, social circles, or progression within a game. It is often used as a tool for social dominance, where a "gatekeeper" imposes arbitrary requirements or emotional pressure (e.g., accusations of "betrayal") to maintain a position of authority or to keep others dependent on them.

(10) Contradiction: A set of statements, ideas, or features which are logically incompatible. Example: Claiming "Play however you want" while simultaneously demanding "Don't do X activity or join Y Discord."

(11) Strawman [Fallacy]: An intentional misrepresentation of an opponent's proposition, set up because it is easier to defeat than the opponent's actual argument. Example: Claiming you are "handing out land to enemies" when you are actually asking about one specific abandoned plot.

(12) Gaslighting: A form of psychological manipulation in which a person seeks to sow seeds of doubt in a targeted individual, making them question their own memory, perception, or judgment. Example: Denying that accusations were made ("No one accused you of anything") despite clear text evidence to the contrary.

(13) Projection: A psychological defense mechanism in which an individual attributes their own unacceptable emotions, desires, or traits to another person. Example: Accusing someone of having an "enormous ambition" or "wanting to be a leader" when the accuser is the one obsessed with the Guild Leader role and Landsraad rankings.

(14) Reciprocity: The practice of exchanging things with others for mutual benefit. In gaming, it is the standard of providing access or help to those who provide the same to you. The absence of reciprocity (demanding access without giving it) is a form of exploitation.
